Instructions

1. You must print your thesis on 8-1/2” × 11” paper of bond quality.

2. The ink or toner you use to print your thesis must be black and of sufficient density for good photographic or scanned reproduction. Print your images at 300 dpi and your text at 600 dpi or higher for quality reproduction.

3. Number the text pages of your thesis at the center or right edge of the text block, at the top or bottom of the page (choose one location).

4. Your final thesis must have (1) a title page (see figure at right), (2) a signed certification sheet (available in the Undergraduate Studies Office), (3) a table of contents, and (4) a bibliography.

5. You must submit three unbound copies of your thesis: one copy to your sponsor, one copy to the Department of Political Science, and one copy to the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

The copy you submit to the College of Liberal Arts and Science must be in a manilla envelope with a copy of the thesis title page attached to the front. The original, red-bordered, signed copy of the certification sheet must be included in this copy. (You may put photocopies of the sheet in the copies of your thesis you submit to your sponsor and the department.)

Departmental distinction

You may qualify for ‘distinction’ in Political Science if you earn an A for your thesis and finish your degree with a political science GPA of 3.25 or greater. If your GPA is 3.5 or greater, you will earn ‘high distinction’; if it is 3.7 or greater, you will earn ‘highest distinction’.

If you earn a B for your thesis, your level of distinction is lowered by one level; if you earn a C, it is lowered by two levels.

Title page

Use this model to lay out your title page.
